LOCAL RED CROSS NEWS

Cordial Invitation Extended to the Public Generally to Visit the Alexandria Work Rooms.

Those in charge of the work which is being done for the Red Cross in the city of Alexandria are anxious to have the citizens generally know about the work, therefore they extend a cordial invitation to the residents to visit the work rooms located on the third floor of the Marshall House, corner of King and Pitt streets. Work of some kind is carried on there every week day excepting Mondays and Saturdays.

The following persons have successfully completed the pupils course in standard surgical dressings and have qualified as expert workers but not as instructors; Mrs. Gardner L. Boothe, Miss Constance Boush, Miss Ellen Burke, Miss Esther Burke, Mrs. Julian Burke, Mrs. Robert Dawes, Mrs. W. P. Ficklin, Mrs. Milton French, Mrs. Richard Gibson, Miss Esther Green, Mrs. Thomas Leadbeater, Mrs. Wallace Lindsey, Miss Evelyn Mallory, Mrs. Hugh McGuire, Mrs. J. K. M. Norton, Mrs. Ernest Risdon, Miss Edith Snowden, Miss Elsie Snowden, Miss Mary Snowden, and Mrs. Frank Watkins.

All surgical dressing workers are urged to devote as many hours each week as possible in this work. The work rooms will be open on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week from 10 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. All qualified workers are requested to attend.

The workroom for the making of hospital garments and supplies is now being used as follows: Tuesday, 10 a. m., to 1 p. m., Chapter cutting; 2 to 4 p. m., M. E. Church South Auxiliary; Wednesday, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., general sewing, all welcome; Thursday, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., Chapter cutting; 2 to 4 p. m., Temple Auxiliary; 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., Grace church Auxiliary; Friday 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., Chapter cutting.

All knitters for the Red Cross are urged to kint socks, if possible. Mrs. Herndon, supervisor of knitting, will start a class for sock knitters at the Red Cross rooms beginning next Wednesday at 2 p. m.

DO NOT WASTE MILK.

The Food Commissioners Say Use Milk but do not Let Any be Thrown Away.

How can the consumer help the milk supply? By judicious use, good care, and by utilizing it in all its forms. That half cup of milk which was poured into the sink today because it was allowed to sour—it would have made a substantial amount of cottage cheese or could have been used in cooking.

In many households quite a little milk is wasted—left uncovered in glasses—regarded useless because the cream has been skimmed off, allowed to sour—poured down the sink or thrown away. Half a cup of milk—whole, skimmed or sour—seemingly a trifling matter, hardly worth the trouble to keep or use.

But if every one of the twenty million homes should waste on the average one-half cup daily, it would mean 2,500,000 quarts daily for the country or 912,500,000 quarts a year—the total product of more than 400,000 cows. It takes a lot of grass and grain to make that much milk and an army of people to produce and deliver it. Maybe this estimate is too high. Suppose that one-half cup is wasted in only one out of 100 homes. The waste which this would make is still intolerable when milk is no nutritious, when skim milk can be used in making such wholesome soups and cereal dishes, when sour milk can be used in bread making or for cottage cheese.

MUST ATTEND A SCHOOL.

Senate Resolution Would Remove All Constitutional Exemptions.

The Mathews compulsory school attendance resolution, a measure even more drastic than that adopted by the House Thursday, passed the Senate Saturday with only one dissenting vote. The resolution proposes an amendment to the Constitution by which those children exempted by the present law may be compelled to attend school.

TO HELP THE SOLDIERS

Campaign on to Raise Five Thousand Dollars for War Camp Recreation Fund in Alexandria.

The campaign to raise five thousand dollars in aid of the War Camp Recreation fund started in Alexandria today. On Friday evening last Dr. Cyrus F. Stimson, district representative, of Washington, gave a most excellent address before the committee organized in this city, in which he explained very fully the aims and objects of the work. The meeting was held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, was presided over by Mr. Taylor S. Burke, and all in attendance were much impressed with the necessity of raising the money and doing all in their power to assist in the work.

The number of soldiers that will soon be in camp in this vicinity, will largely outnumber the entire population of Alexandria, and all its suburbs, and many of the boys will be in the city daily. In order that a proper place may be had in which they may be entertained, money must be provided to secure it. Plans are already under way and it is possible that the armory on South Royal street will be made use of. Cash will be required to fit it up in a proper manner to make it satisfactory, and every effort will be made by the committee in charge to procure the requisite amount of funds with which to do the work.

Mr. Taylor Burke this morning received his appointment as chairman of the Committee for Alexandria city and county and also for Fairfax county. The other members of the committee are:

E. L. Daingerfield, Wallace Lindsey, Julian Y. Williams, John Herndon, V. Ward Boswell, Geo. Washington Lewis, O. H. Kirk, Leo P. Harlow, M. J. McFarland, W. A. Moore, jr., Vance H. Peele, J. Frank Myers, Miss Nettie Garner, Miss Lucy Graves, Miss Helen Cummins, Mrs. T. Clifton Howard, W. Frazier Baldwin, H. E. Gentry, J. H. Trimyer, E. H. Roberts, C. A. Callahan, Paul Kester, J. L. Procise, L. F. Dyson, S. W. Pitts, Elliott Hoffman, David Aitcheson, Miss Florence Evans, Mrs. Samuel Bendheim, Mrs. Louis Bendheim, Vivian P. Berry, Julius Wolf, C. Ashby Bladen, C. P. Waller, Marshall L. Dinwiddie, Thos. E. Dyson, Maurice Wilkins and R. H. Cox.

Among the contributions received today up to the hour the Gazette goes to press, were the following: Mutual Ice Company, $25; Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, $50; Robert L. Payne, $5; J. Bernheimer $2.50.

Members of the committee will visit the towns in Alexandria and Fairfax counties and every person will be asked to contribute for the cause. In many of the churches of Alexandria yesterday the pastors made appeals to their congregations to lend their assistance.

It is stated that three thousand more soldiers are expected at the St Asaph camp within a short time and that upward of twenty thousand will be located at the Belvoir camp as soon as the buildings can be erected there for them. Hundreds of these men will undoubtedly visit Alexandria each day and it is for their benefit the work referred to has been undertaken in this city as it will be in every city located near a military camp throughout the country.

WORLD TO STARVE.

Such Is Claim of Dr. Maurice Egan United States Minister to Denmark.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 26.—That the whole world will be reduced to the verge of starvation if the European war continues for two more years is the opinion of European food experts, declared Dr. Maurice Francis Egan, United States minister to Denmark and dean of the American diplomatic corps.

Dr. Egan who has just returned from his post in Copenhagen and came to Norfolk to attend the wedding of his niece, Miss Anna McCarrick, declares the people of Denmark are now living in practical slavery and that the same is true of the other small neutral European nations.

"If I Only Had a Million," is the title of a drama which will be rendered by St. Mary's dramatic club under the direction of Mr. A. D. Montier, at Lyceum Hall on the evenings of February 7th and 8th. It is stated that the proceeds of one night will be presented to the Red Cross.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah F. Slaymaker, who died on Friday last, was held yesterday morning at 518 Duke street, the Rev. P. P. Phillips officiating. The pallbearers were Messrs. Charles C. Chief of Police Goods of this city is in receipt of a letter from Governor Henry C. Stuart of Richmond concerning the recent raid made upon the gambling resort known as the "Ark." The letter says: "I desire to tender my official thanks for the sympathetic and effective assistance you gave my representatives in raiding a disreputable resort in the Potomac river in Fairfax county on Sunday last, and to assure you that the people of Virginia appreciate fully your co-operation in the preservation of law and order. I trust you will also express my gratitude to Sergeant Wilkinson and Patrolman Roland of your force."

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held at 3.30 tomorrow afternoon, Jan. 29, in the Lee school building.

Clarence Woolls, the ten-year old son of Stephen Woolls, 1106 Wilkes street, who was caught underneath a moving freight car on the Southern railroad track on Wilkes street, Saturday, and injured so that it was necessary to take him to the Alexandria hospital, is reported to be suffering considerably today. One of his hands was quite badly crushed and one of his legs lacerated. He was treated by Dr. M. D. Delaney.

The pictures to be shown in connection with the lecture to be given by Mr. Robert S. Barrett, under the auspices of the Cameron Club on Friday night at the Young People's building, should prove of especial interest as they were secured by Mr. Barrett during his sojourn in South America and may be relied upon as authentic. The proceeds of the lecture are to be expended for the benefit of the school nurse's work which should also appeal to the residents of the city in general.

A recent ruling of the Fuel Commission for Alexandria contains the following: Seedmen are exempt. Laundries are exempt, Barber Shops are exempt. Stores selling food can use heat to operate until noon on each Monday, and if selling essential food can operate all day and evening. Nothing but food, however, shall be sold, Garages can keep only sufficient heat to prevent damage to building or contents by freezing. Blacksmith shops doing public business are exempt. Theatres, bowling alleys and places of amusement cannot obtain fuel on Tuesdays of each week, for either heat or light, except such heat as is necessary to prevent damage to property.

Automobile license tags can now be procured at the station house, a supply having been received from Richmond today.

The funeral of Richard A. Crane who died on Friday, took place today, at 2 o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Crane, in Del Ray. The services were conducted by Rev. E. V. Regester and Rev. Mr. Fielding.

Normoyle, Philadelphia; William P. Normoyle Washington; George A. Harlow, this city; Thomas J. Fannon, this city; James F. Shea and James P. Mewshaw, Washington.

Nicholson, Miss Philippa Wattles, Miss Mamie Lindsey, Miss Esther Green, Miss Christina Kemper, Miss Nannie Jones and Miss Nancy Lee Fendall Tackett.

SALARIES TO GET NO BOOST.

House Declines to Concur in Measure Already Passed by Senate.

The bills to increase salaries of Circuit Court judges from $2,500 to $3,000, and that to permit election of school supervisors by popular vote, were defeated in the House of Delegates last week. Both had passed the Senate and were up for the third reading in the House. On the salary increase bill a four-fifths majority was needed. The vote resulted in 62 to 24 for its passage. Fifty-one votes were needed for the election bill. Forty-five members voted for, and forty against it.

Samuel Chapman Armstrong, founder of Hampton School, as the man who launched the struggle of a race which vindicated its citizenship and justified the equality of opportunity.

He declared the successor of Armstrong, Hollis Burke Frissel, with a vision of increased usefulness, expressed the Hampton spirit. Mr. Taft expressed his confidence in James Edgar Gregg, principal-elect of the Institute.

"Wolves of the Rail" Tonight.

Wm. S. Hart, the Thos. H. Ince star, in his newest Arteraft picture, "Wolves of the Rail," at the Richmond theatre tonight, performs a feat that eclipses any "thriller" heretofore seen on the screen. To prevent a locomotive from crashing into a train loaded with soldiers he gallops madly along the onrushing engine, swings himself into the engine-cab, throws the reverse lever and brings the locomotive to a standstill. In making this scene Hart was compelled to do without the usual rehearsals, and to ride a horse that was new to motion picture work and "engine-shy."

10 KILLED AS TRAIN BURNS.

Explosion on German Express Sets Fire That Injures 50.

Amsterdam, Jan. 28.—An express train while running between Berlin and Munich, Bavaria, caught fire at Schleissheim, 6 miles north of Munich, as the result of an explosion of a bottle of benzine, says the Saturday edition of the Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin. Ten persons were killed and 50 were injured.

COLD KILLS BIRDS.

Thousands of Feathery Creation Perish in Virginia.

TO SOAR OVER CAPITAL.

British to Use Two Large Biplanes In Numerous Flights.

Aviators of the British Mission will make several flights over Washington in two large biplanes within the next few days.

The only flights ever before made over the Capital by foreign military aviators were by Italians, in a large Caproni triplane, several months ago.

The British airmen will fly from here to aviation concentration and training camps throughout the country.

The machines are large biplanes of the Avro type, used in England principally for training purposes. They arrived last night. As soon as they are assembled and tuned up, the flights will begin.

WILL PRESENT LEES SWORD.

Granddaughter Plans to Give War Relic to Richmond Museum.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 28.—The sword worn by Gen. Robert E. Lee at the surrender of Appomattox will be presented to the Virginia room in the Confederate Museum at Richmond on Wednesday by Miss Ann Carter Lee, his granddaughter, and will be accepted by Gov. Henry Carter Stuart. The inscription shows that the sword was presented to Gen. Lee by a Marylander.

Memoirs of officers taking part show that at no time during the surrender negotiations did Lee make any formal tender of his sword, and the final terms expressly stated that all officers should retain their side arms.

In Memoriam.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother and wife, Louisa E. Winkfield, who departed this life seven years ago today, Jan. 28, 1911.

I will meet you some bright morning
Where no farewell tears can flow.
I sure will meet you there, dear wife,
On the bright and shining shore.
We did not know the pain you bore,
We did not see you die,
Oh, dear mother, we only know
You went away and did not say good bye.

SATURDAY NIGHT COURT

No Cases on the Docket at the Station House This Morning—Minor Matters Disposed of at a Special Session.

No arrests were made by the Police Saturday night or yesterday; hence the blotter at the station house was clear this morning. The police report the city as having been quiet during the past forty-eight hours.

A special session of the Police Court was held Saturday night for the purpose of disposing of three unimportant cases, in each of which the charges were dismissed with admonitions.

A young woman alleged her husband was not properly providing for her and their infant child. Upon investigation it was shown that the family jars could have been obliterated without resort to the Police Court and the couple were told they must bear and forbear in the future.

A German shipcarpenter, who lives with his son in the northeastern section of the city, had been arraigned at the instance of his offspring on the charge of appropriating all the money the youth had made during the week. The couple have been before the bar before, especially on Saturday nights. The father was told that if he reappeared in court he would be fined and compelled to give security to keep the peace, while his son would be given the privilege of seeking other quarters.

The last case was a charge of assault urged by a colored man against another. While it was a clear case of breach of the law, it was shown that there were extenuating circumstances and as the complainant had not been injured, the defendant was dismissed with an injunction that he must be careful in future. The complainant was represented by Robinson Moncure and the defendant by Aylett Nicol.

BOY SHOOTS FATHER.

Father Was Protecting Family Sugar Bowl and Obeying Hoover.

Winchester, Va., Jan. 28.—Winchester doctors have been picking shot out of Fred Cooper's back at the hospital in this city for the past several days, because Fred endeavored to protect the family sugar bowl from being sacked by the members of his family in defiance of Mr. Hoover's orders for food conservation.

The shooting occurred last week at the Cooper home, in Berryville. According to testimony given before justice John T. Crow, the elder Cooper and his wife engaged in an argument over the use of sugar at the breakfast table. Cooper claimed that the family was wasting the sugar and threatened to lock it up from the rest of the family.

During the altercation between the parents, Young Cooper left the room and secured a shotgun and fired at his father.

The full load of shot struck the older man in the right shoulder. He was rushed to Winchester Memorial hospital, where it was found that while his condition was serious, none of the shot had penetrated a vital spot, and unless unforeseen developments occur he will recover.

ABOLITION OF PASSES.

McAdoo Issues Drastic Order of Interest to Those Who Ride Free.

William G. McAdoo, Director General of Railroads, last night issued peremptory orders to all railroad officials and directors to cut off immediately from the pay rolls all legislative railroad lobbyists, supernumerary lawyers, useless railroad literary associations, political payments and all passes, intra-State as well as inter-State.

Director General McAdoo would not discuss his sweeping order. But from other sources the broad hint was obtained that the possibility is very strong that top-heavy boards of directors also may be struck by the governmental cow-catcher.

Several million dollars will be saved within the first year by this drastic step, it was estimated last night.

Death Notice.

LINDSEY—Charlotte Rebecca, infant daughter of J. C. and Margaret N. Lindsey, died 6 a. m., Jan. 26, 1918. Funeral 10 a. m. Tuesday, Jan. 29, from 216 south Payne street.

CHEERLESS AWAKENING

Second Blue Monday Accompanied by Snow, Hail, Frigid Temperature And Frozen Gas Pipes.

The Weather Bureau announced Saturday that another cold wave was in transitu. The wind was from the northeast yesterday, while the cloudy conditions made snow or rain probable at any time. Snow began to fall at 10:45 last night, and at an early hour this morning at least eight inches had been added to that of last week, most of which still remained upon the streets.

Early risers found it impossible to use gas stoves, as the blazes which flickered from the burners were not of sufficient power to cook anything, and the old reliable cooking stoves had to be brought into requisition. This, of course, occasioned loss of time, and there was more or less confusion in getting the working members of families to their places of occupation. Those holding positions in Washington were especially anxious to catch early trains, but, to their chagrin, upon reaching the stations they found that the trains were unavoidably late on account of the snow fall.

Numbers of men and women had gathered in front of the Royal street station, and at all other stopping places in the city and waited until trains eventually made their appearance.

It has been impossible to operate trains upon schedule time today. Two or three would arrive in this city at the same time, and leave as soon as the passengers were discharged and others had taken their places.

The fact that it was "heatless Monday" added to the gloom and as the day advanced conditions in Alexandria resembled Sunday, as most stores were not opened for the transaction of business.

The river as far down as could be seen had virtually undergone a change since last week. Heavy ice, covered with snow, was all that could be discerned.

The steamer Southland, of the Norfolk and Washington line, left this port about on time last night, and the steamer Northland, of the same line, reached here at 4:30 this morning. The Northland left Norfolk at noon yesterday. Her officers reported conditions about the same as those of the past week or ten days. Ice covers the Potomac river and Chesapeake Bay, and considerable difficulty is experienced in forcing steamboats through it. Conditions in the bends and narrow portions of the river make navigation especially difficult.

Clearing and cold weather is predicted for tomorrow.

WEDDED IN FURS.

Virginia Couple Stand Amid Flowers In Heatless Home.

Winchester, Va., Jan. 28.—Samuel J. Pritchard, a prominent young banker of Petersburg, Va., and Miss Bessie Wilson Arthur, a society favorite here, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Arthur, in the West End, but not according to schedule.

The house had been decorated with choice flowers and Southern palms, and the surroundings were most inviting, when it was suddenly discovered that the house was getting cold. The coal supply had become exhausted, and none could be had at any price.

The bride's uncle, the Rev. Dr. B. F. Wilson, of Harrisonburg, Va., who was to have performed the ceremony, was snowbound, and another minister was sent for. The bride and her attendants were compelled to put on fur coats, and the bridegroom and his attendants found it necessary to wear their heavy overcoats with the collars turned up.

With the members of the wedding party and their guests standing around the cold room, decorated with tropical plants, the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Lacy, whose teeth chattered as he spoke the words of the marriage service.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

Both houses of the Legislature have passed the bill for compulsory education in Virginia. The Senate amended the bill which came from the House of Delegates Saturday, but there is every reason to suppose the lower house will concur in the action of the Senate. After it shall have been passed through both branches of the Legislature, this proposed amendment to the constitution will be submitted to the people for their affirmation.

Compulsory education has for many years been the law in other states of the union, and it is strange Virginia should have hesitated so long in adopting what may be regarded as the prime essential for citizenship.

During the recollection of some now living a certain percentage of people in our state, especially those in the rural sections or in river counties, could read or write, and certain persons made the writing of letters for the illiterate a business.

The advent of the public school system after the war between the states made ignorance a voluntary misfortune. But still some persons who had managed to drift through life without letters, strangely supposed their offspring should do the same. Compulsory education should long have been in vogue, which would have prevented parents from rearing children in ignorance.

A famous historian of his day in writing a preface to his "Life of Cyrus," the Persian, made a comparison between Xenophon and Herodotus. The writer called attention to the fact that the latter, according to the custom of ancient Greece concentrated his mind upon letters and literature, which accounts for the mental powers of the Hellenists the works of whom we read today with such relish. Xenophon belonged to a martial race, as did Cyrus. Grecian literature has delighted the world for 2,500 years, while Persia notwithstanding her martial greatness in the days of Cyrus, is now but a ghost of the past.

SITUATION IN GERMANY.

After carefully reading the many dispatches from Europe concerning the speeches of the German Chancellor and Austrian Premier, it must be apparent not only to those who read between the lines, but to those who read while they run that conditions are growing from bad to worse in the dual kingdom, and that the spirit of war-weariness is becoming more apparent in Germany. The recent utterances of the majority socialists in the Kaiser's realms and of their leader, Philip Scheidemann are ominous. The situation in Austria-Hungary is growing more desperate all the time, as the people are disappointed and frantic over the announcements that the war is to be continued.

Scheidemann declares that peace will come with the spring, while many people in the dual kingdom are clamoring for a cessation of hostilities earlier in the present year.

The threat of the leader of the German socialists to oust the powers that be should the demands of the people be unheeded is especially significant.

Grim winter is adding to the desperation of millions of hungry people in the central empire, while neutrals, on account of embargoes and the uncertainty of shipping, are silently posing as vicarious sufferers.

Scheidemann is just back from an extended and mysterious stay at Stockholm, where he was seen in the company of Bolshevikist emissaries. He has made sharp front against Count Hertling's stand on peace. Addressing the reichstag main committee, he made a passionate plea for a peace by understanding before spring. The U-boats had failed, he said, and even if France and England were beaten to their knees Germany would still have to face the mighty armed and economic power of America. He plainly threatened action by the German masses if Junkerism further hindered peace.

"In the event of a disappointment of our hopes regarding the western front," he said, "what then, if not a catastrophe?"

In this statement is seen the opening gun in a vigorous German Socialist campaign against the contemplated supreme drive in the west.

PALESTINE SABBATH.

Saturday last was a notably day in Judaism. In the synagogues throughout the United States it was celebrated as Palestine Sabbath; the resurrection of the Jewish State was the topic of sermons by the rabbis, and the offering of the day was set aside for the Palestine Restoration Fund, the first $1,000,000 of which is now being raised in this country. As it happens, the verses from the scriptures, which are usually read in the synagogues on this particular Sabbath, deal with the exodus from the Egyptain bondage; and nothing could be more appropriate to the occasion than Miriam's song in celebration of the passage of the Red Sea the confusion of Pharaoh and the destruction of his host in the confluence of the parted waters:

After many centuries of dispersal, the redemption of Israel and the restoration of the Jewish commonwealth are brought within measurable distance of realization. Palestine and the Promised Land beyond the Jordan, which have been lost to them for more than 2,000 years, are again to become the seat of this uprooted nation.

The plans for the re-establishment of the Jewish State are ambitious. The Restoration Fund to be raised throughout the world is expected to reach $100,000,000 in amount.

TERRORISM AND TREASON.

Trained to military service as the German nation has been from the cradle to the grave, a "nation in arms" as it has boasted of being, the German nation has done nothing remarkable in a strictly military way. The soldiers have fought well, but so have the soldiers of all the belligerent nations. At Ypres and at several other encounters, notably on the Marne, the Germans have been stopped or driven back by inferior forces of the allies.

The generalship of the Germans has not been superior to that of the allies. They defeated the Russians at the Mazurian Lakes, but there were other places where the Russians won over the Germans. In Italy Germany sent assistance to that lame duck of an ally, Austria-Hungary, and not even German military prowess has been able to drive Italy further back for almost three months. In fact, German generalship has not been at all marked. The German commanders have usually relied upon the weight of numbers, and on the west have been steadily beaten since the first three months of the war.

Instead of achieving success by "mailed fists" and "shining swords" and "shining armor." and all such stage properties, the German reliance has been chiefly upon the two weapons of terrorism and hatching treason in other nations.

What military successes Germany has obtained were due to the fact that it sprang the war upon the world when it was prepared and other nations were not.

The Hand of Friendship

You are asked to contribute to the War Camp Community Recreation Fund because broad, national support is necessary to the success of the undertaking. You are really contributing hours of sunshine and recreative pleasure to the boys who are enroute to battlefield trenches. It is a very satisfying feeling to know that you, personally, have been instrumental in keeping these brave lads safer from moral harm than an army has ever been before. Your contribution buys the brighter side of warfare—dances in private homes, fellowship in clubs, athletic tournaments, choruses. It means that there will always be a SAFE place for that boy to go. Let there be material help in the outstretched hand of friendship.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO CONSUMERS OF COAL

At the direction of the Fuel Administrator for Virginia, an order has been issued to the retail dealers of coal in this city and county, not to deliver coal to household consumers, in quantities in excess of two tons and then only when the consumer's supply on hand is two tons or less. This will make the maximum quantity of four tons at any one time. To larger consumers, deliveries are not to be made in quantities greater than the actual needs of the consumers for fifteen days, and then only when the consumer's supply on hand is less than their requirements for fifteen days. This will make the maximum quantity held by larger consumers at any one time, only sufficient for their actual needs for thirty days or less. Industries buying coal in carload lots must obtain special permit from the Fuel Administrator.

To make this order effective, and to relieve the dealer of the responsibility and difficulty of ascertaining the supply any consumer has on hand, it is arranged that an affidavit be furnished by the purchasers of coal in excess of one-half ton (this affidavit can be made by any member of the family over sixteen years of age.) These forms for making the affidavits will be in the hands of the dealers, and notaries and the affidavits will be taken without charge, by any one of the following notaries public, who have offered their services to aid the Commission in this work:

Miss Gladys M. Brooks, room 1, Alexandria National bank building, W. C. Drury, 107 south Royal street; J. T. Burke, Burke and Herbert; Miss Cora Duffey, Office, Clerk of Court; Courtland H. At a Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, continued and held at the Courthouse of said City on Tuesday, January 22nd, 1918.
